

ONLY ISRAEL

A nighttime photograph of several skyscrapers in Tel Aviv, Israel. The buildings are illuminated with lights, and one prominent building on the right displays the Israeli flag and the Star of David. The sky is dark, and the lights from the buildings create a vibrant scene.

A YOUNG NATION
OFFERING EXTRAORDINARY
GIFTS TO HUMANITY

Produced by StandWithUs

ONLY

A photograph of a modern university campus. The central focus is a large, cylindrical building with a glass facade, reflecting the sky. To its right is a taller, more traditional rectangular building with a grid of windows. A metal walkway or bridge connects the two buildings. In the foreground, there are people sitting on a paved area, and a young tree is on the left. The sky is clear and blue.

Israelis have the highest number of university degrees per capita in the world.

ISRAEL

Since the founding of the state in 1948, Israel has had more Nobel Prize winners per capita than any other country.

ONLY

Israel attracts more venture capital investments per capita than any other country in the world.

ISRAEL

A close-up portrait of Warren Buffett, the founder of Berkshire Hathaway. He is wearing black-rimmed glasses and has a slight smile. The background is blurred.

BERKSHIRE HATHAWAY INC.

An Israeli company, Iscar Metalworking, was the first company outside the USA ever purchased by Berkshire Hathaway's billionaire founder Warren Buffett.

ISRAEL

A photograph of two men in business attire (shirts and ties) looking intently at a whiteboard. The whiteboard is covered in technical diagrams, including flowcharts, arrows, and mathematical symbols. The man on the right is pointing at a specific part of the diagram with a pen. The overall scene suggests a professional or academic setting, likely a meeting or a lecture.

Israel produces more scientific papers per capita than any other nation and has one of the highest per capita rates of patents filed.

ONLY

Israel has the largest number of start-up companies in the world in proportion to its population.

ISRAEL

Israel is the first country to invest in a nationwide network of electric cars and battery-swapping stations, leading the way to reducing global dependency on fossil fuels.

ONLY

A male doctor with a stethoscope around his neck, wearing a white lab coat over a light blue shirt and a gold tie, is smiling and pointing towards a computer monitor. The background shows a clinical setting with a white door and a dark cabinet.

Through its medical devices, medicine, and inventions, Israel saves more lives per capita than any other country in the world.

ISRAEL

A close-up photograph of two young African children, a girl on the left and a boy on the right, both smiling broadly and looking towards the camera. The girl is wearing a pink and white striped shirt, and the boy is wearing a dark blue polo shirt. The background is slightly out of focus, showing what appears to be a stone wall.

An Israeli scientist discovered a natural bacterium that combats river blindness caused by infectious mosquitoes and black flies, helping to protect the people of 11 African nations.

A partial view of a hand at the bottom of the page, holding a small, dark object, possibly a piece of wood or a tool, against a light-colored background.

ONLY

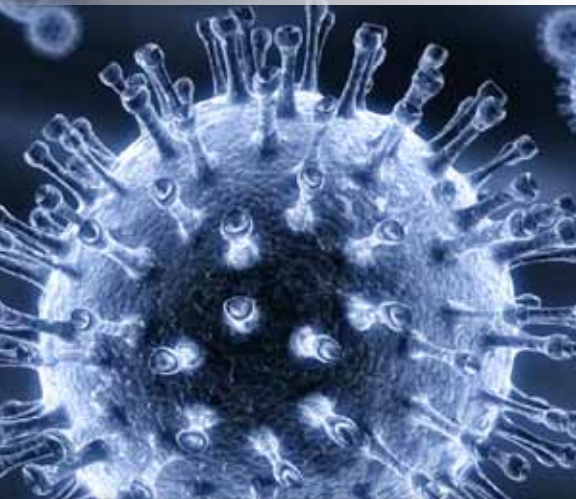

An Israeli company, Given Imaging, pioneered capsule endoscopy, which is now the gold standard for small bowel visualization. The PillCam is an ingestible video camera that allows pain-free, noninvasive visualization of the small intestine and esophagus to detect disease.

ISRAEL

Israeli scientists Dr. Avram Hershko (left) and Dr. Aaron Ciechanover won a Nobel Prize in Chemistry for their research on the regulatory protein ubiquitin. Their work will lead to finding new treatments and cures for many types of diseases.

ONLY

Israeli scientists developed an AIDS treatment that targets and destroys 40 percent of HIV-infected cells without affecting healthy cells.

ISRAEL

An Israeli company, Nano Retina, is developing an artificial retina to restore sight to the visually impaired.

ONLY

An Israeli nonprofit organization called Save a Child's Heart performs free open-heart surgeries for underprivileged children from around the world, regardless of race, religion, or ethnicity. Forty-nine percent of the patients are from Palestinian communities, Jordan, Iraq, and Morocco.

ISRAEL

Israel was among the first on the scene in Haiti to provide disaster relief.
“The Israeli hospital...is the paramount medical center operating in Haiti.... It receives the cases that other hospitals find difficult to manage.” –Time

ONLY

An Israeli company developed ReWalk™, the first commercially viable upright walking assistance tool, enabling paraplegics to stand, walk, and climb stairs.

ISRAEL

A close-up photograph of various blue and white pills and capsules scattered on a surface. The pills are in various shapes, including round tablets and oblong capsules, some with a score line. The colors range from light blue to dark blue, with one prominent white capsule in the foreground.

An Israeli company developed a computerized system for administering medications in order to prevent human error.

ONLY

Drip irrigation was developed in Israel and has a utilization rate of 95 percent. It is now being adopted in other countries around the globe.

ISRAEL

Israel is the only country in the world that recycles more than 75 percent of its water. In addition, over 90 percent of Israel's water heaters are solar powered.

ONLY

Israel was the first country in the world to adopt the Kimberley Process, an international standard that certifies diamonds as “conflict free.”

ISRAEL

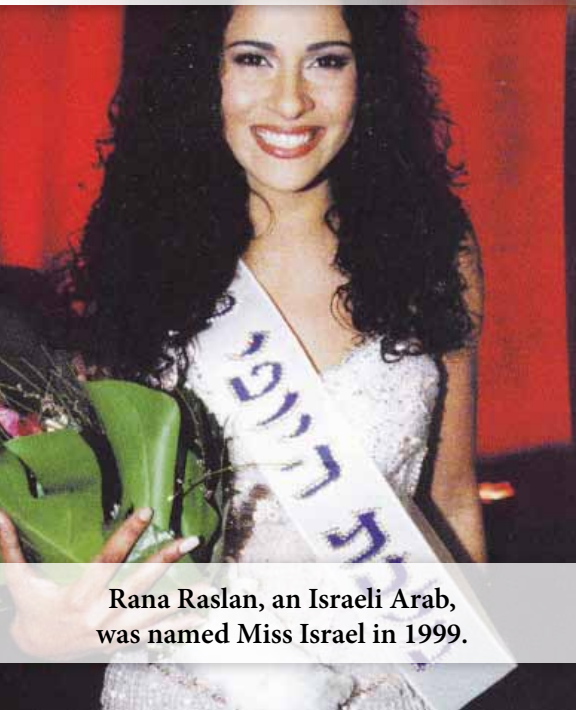

El Al, the national airline of Israel, has the world's best security when it comes to protecting passengers and flights. Within hours after the World Trade Center was attacked on September 11, 2001, airlines from all over the world sought advice from El Al on how to deal with security threats.

ONLY

Instant messaging, firewall security software, Intel wireless computer chips, the Windows NT operating system, voicemail technology, VOIP technology, and the cell phone were all developed in Israel.

ISRAEL

Rana Raslan, an Israeli Arab, was named Miss Israel in 1999.

A photograph of a man with short dark hair and a beard, wearing a black tank top, smiling broadly. He is holding a large Israeli flag (white with blue stripes and a Star of David) in his right hand. In the background, there are other rainbow pride flags and a building with windows. The scene appears to be a pride parade or a public demonstration.

ONLY

When it comes to gay rights, Israel's laws are more progressive than most other countries in the world, including the U.S.

ISRAEL

Israel is the only Middle Eastern country where women, regardless of ethnicity or religion, have the right to vote.

ONLY

In the entire Middle East, only Israel received a number-one rating from Freedom House, which evaluates democracy and freedom around the world.

ISRAEL

A close-up photograph of a man with dark hair and a beard, wearing a black kippah with a white patterned band. He is looking down and touching a light-colored, textured stone wall with his right hand. The background is slightly blurred, showing other people and a red garment.

There are 56 Islamic-majority countries in the world, 122 Christian, 10 Buddhist, and 5 Hindu.

Israel is the only Jewish-majority country in the world and has been the Jewish homeland for over 3,000 years.

ONLY

Israel is the only Middle Eastern country where the Christian population has grown in the last half-century.

ISRAEL

Jerusalem is the only city in the world with sites holy to Judaism, Christianity, and Islam.

IMAGINE IF...

Imagine if every nation in the world could follow Israel's example of humanitarianism and democracy.

Imagine if Israel enjoyed peace with its neighbors and could focus more of its attention on medical and scientific advancements, innovation, and technology.

IMAGINE PEACE

Order more of these booklets:
shipping@standwithus.com

Check out our other materials at:
www.standwithus.com

StandWithUs

Please Support StandWithUs
Send Your Generous Donation To:

StandWithUs, P.O. Box 341069
Los Angeles, CA 90034-1069
info@standwithus.com • 310.836.6140

SWU723 08/11